

Biographical Sketch of: L. POE LEGGETTE

Poe Leggette is a Chairman of Fulbright & Jaworski's Energy Group, a group of approximately 200 attorneys experienced in domestic and international energy transactions, litigation, and arbitration. Since September 1998, he has been a partner in the firm's Washington, D.C., office.

In 1977, Poe Leggette received his law degree from the University of Virginia School of Law. For eleven years Mr. Leggette served in a number of key posts with the Department of Interior including Assistant Solicitor, Offshore Minerals and International Law. From January 1991 through August 1998, Mr. Leggette was with the firm of Jackson & Kelly.

His more recent publications include:

- Leggette, Pell & Greenfield, "The Role of Domestic Production in U.S. National Energy Policy," International Oil & Gas Finance Review 2002 123-27 (2002);
- Leggette, Pell & Greenfield, "An Energy Encore for America's Public Lands," International Oil & Gas Finance Review 2001 117-120 (2001); and
- Leggette & Pell, "Aggressive Natural Resources Litigation Tactics: Citizens' Suits and Qui Tam Actions," 44 Rocky Mt. Min. L. Inst. 3-1 (1998);

Mr. Leggette represents companies and trade associations in litigation over mineral development of federal and Indian lands, onshore and offshore. He also counsels companies on compliance with procedures for exploration and production permits on federal lands, and on offshore safety and environmental requirements. He has also been known to handle a royalty case or two.

Fulbright & Jaworski L.L.P.
801 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Suite 400
Washington, DC 20004
(202) 662-4646