

Anthony C. Marino
Schully, Roberts, Slattery & Marino

Biographical Information

Anthony C. Marino is a shareholder at the law firm of Schully, Roberts, Slattery & Marino, P.L.C. located in New Orleans, Louisiana. He concentrates his practice generally in mineral title examination, the acquisition and divestiture of mineral properties, regulatory matters relating to the Outer Continental Shelf, and energy related financing transactions involving the negotiation and performance of exploration, development, operating and joint venture agreements. Mr. Marino has represented numerous energy producing companies before the Minerals Management Service in the Pacific, Gulf of Mexico, and Alaska OCS Regions, Minerals Revenue Management, Department of the Interior, Interior Board of Land Appeals, and other regulatory agencies concerning a variety of matters such as plugging and abandonment liability, bonding, oil spill financial responsibility, royalty valuation, royalty relief and incidents of non-compliance. Mr. Marino is a member of the American Bar Association, Louisiana State Bar Association, Professional Landmen's Association of New Orleans, Houston Producer's Forum, and American Association of Professional Landmen. He is a frequent lecturer at seminars on energy related topics and programs sponsored by the West Coast Landmen's Institute, Houston Association of Professional Landmen, Professional Landmen's Association of New Orleans, and American Association of Professional Landmen. Mr. Marino received his J.D. degree from Loyola University School of Law and attended the University of New Orleans, where he received his B.A. degree. Mr. Marino is the recipient of the AAPL APEX Educational Award in both 2000 and 2005, and the Corporate Leadership Award from Minerals Management Service, Pacific OCS Region in 2004.